

SUMMER ASSIGNMENT—AP ENGLISH LIT

Read:

- Siddhartha—Herman Hesse
- Brave New World—Aldous Huxley
- The Stranger—Albert Camus (optional, but recommended)

(you may buy your own copies--recommended if you make notes in the text—or check out copies from our library)

- I will also be sending you a couple of excerpts from Joseph Campbell during the summer.

Write:

- Nothing formal this summer, but be prepared to write an insightful essay the second day of school
- A note card highlighting aspects of each novel (as a study aid)

Discuss:

There will be a discussion board on my Learning Point site for you to join and to contribute on throughout the summer. It probably will be up late in June. This is optional, but it will help with our understanding. I check and contribute frequently. We will be discussing all three novels and the Campbell stuff. A good way to get into my good graces is to contribute thoughtfully and consistently. I will email you with details.

Any questions about the course or the summer reading? My email for this course is:

apenglit@yahoo.com

Thanks,

Bob McHeffey