

How to see two different tabs on Chromebook

Hold down the “Alt” key and both bracket keys [and] at the same time. This makes the window smaller on the screen. Now click and hold on the tab you’d like to see and drag it to the other side of the screen. Now you can see two tabs at the same time, like a split screen! This may be useful when students are on a Zoom call and want to see a worksheet or webpage at the same time.
