Poway Unified's Design39 Campus Receives Classroom of the Future Foundation Award

Poway Unified is proud and honored to announce Design39Campus has been awarded the Classroom of the Future Foundation's (CFF) "innovate Award" in the Innovation in Education Awards program. CFF celebrates Design39Campus by saying it, "improves student performance through creative innovations that enhance learning."

"This award and recognition continues to show how student choice and changing the way we do schools is benefitting students at Design39Campus and throughout Poway Unified," said Superintendent John Collins. "Our staff members are doing an extraordinary job empowering our students by designing their learning experiences with the individual learner in mind to create an adaptive, fluid and agile environment to meet the needs of our diverse group of students. Personalization allows each child the freedom to progress forward at their own rate, and in ways that they learn best, as they pursue their passions and prepare for their future."

Since 2004, the Classroom of the Future Foundation has been recognizing innovative programs within San Diego County schools through the Innovation in Education Awards program. The 12th annual Innovation in Education Awards Program "Celebrating Innovation and Honoring Achievement" will be held on May 20, 2015 at the Hahn Center at the University of San Diego.

The award process begins with nominations of any innovative projects in a K-12 classroom, school or district in San Diego County. CFF then names four award winners to recognize innovative projects that demonstrate the power and scope of ways to improve K-12 education. The four award categories are:

- inspire – inspiring students to learn
- innovate – finding new and better ways to educate
- achieve – demonstrating the results of innovations
- impact – doing it all, the best of the best for the year
